TWO NEW STAFF MEMBERS JOIN UD'S PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICE

DAYTON, Ohio -- Two new staff members are joining the public relations office at the University of Dayton.

Candace Stuart begins as director of media relations on July 12. For the past four years she has worked as a science writer/research editor in the news bureau at the University of Illinois at Chicago. From 1981-1988, she worked as a copy editor for the South Bend Tribune. As a free-lance copy editor, she edited for the University of Notre Dame Press. She also has taught beginning feature and news writing courses at Indiana University.

She holds a master's degree in journalism with an emphasis in science writing from Indiana University and a bachelor's degree in English from Kenyon College.

Sara Koehler has joined the staff as a graphic designer, a new position. Since 1991, she worked as a graphic designer in the marketing department of the Dayton Daily News. She has also worked for advertising agencies in St. Louis, Sacramento and Springfield, Ill. She received a bachelor's degree in graphic design from Iowa State University. She's currently pursuing an MBA at the University of Dayton.

Both reside in Kettering.
